cuisine	A wine for special occasions and hearty dishes.
certification	Sustainable Austria

The Kremser Sandgrube consists mainly of loamy fine sand with coarse gravel and crushed stone in the subsoil. Moderate slope inclination to the south provides ideal conditions. Danube gravel deposits in the subsoil also provide a pleasant minerality in the Ried Frechau.

This Grüner Veltliner has harvested with high gradation after repeated thinning out. The grapes were carefully selected for their golden yellow color and the yield was quite low.
